D6 · IMAGERY AND GRAPHIC STYLE

Caught, never sold.

Two treatments. Black-and-white for the object, almost always. Low-key color for people, rarely. Darkness dominates both.

SAMPLE: CROP OF NORA'S AMBER MACRO, CONVERTED

PRIMARY · BLACK AND WHITE

The product as an object.

High contrast. True blacks. Let shadows fill in.

One light. Hard or soft, never a lit-from-everywhere studio.

Negative space. The frame takes up no more than a third of the image.

Surface stays real. No retouching of acetate grain, metal or engraving.

Converted in post. Shoot color RAW, convert to black and white. Keep a color master.

Macro is welcome in either treatment: acetate, metal, engraving, leather.

DIAGRAM: ONE WARM PRACTICAL SOURCE, THE REST FALLS TO BLACK

SECONDARY · LOW-KEY COLOR · SPARINGLY

People, in the dark.

One practical light in the scene: a lamp, a bar light, a window. Warm.

Darkness dominates. Most of the image falls to black.

Candid. Faces turned away, in profile or in silhouette. Nobody looks at the lens.

Nothing staged. If it looks lit for a shoot, reshoot.

Unisex. Cast and pose without gender cues. The same direction for everyone.

At most one in three campaign images uses color.

REFERENCE: REFS/MOOD/MOOD-01 (DIRECTION ONLY, NEVER PUBLISHED; NOT SUPPLIED YET)

NEVER

If it sells, it's wrong.

Smiling at the camera
Stock warmth. Anyone looking into the lens.

Studio-white e-commerce
Floating packshots on white, gloss and reflections.

Beaches, yachts, champagne
Lifestyle props that tell you what to feel.

Gendered poses
Hand-on-hip, chin-down glamour, power stances.

Other brands
No visible logos, posters or labels in frame. Check backgrounds.

Fake 3D and renders
No photoreal CGI of the product. Real or line drawing only.

SHOT LIST · PER STYLE

Twelve frames each.

OPEN: MODEL-TO-STYLE MAPPING · SUNNY LENS COLOR

SHOT	BLAKE · BLACK / BLACK	SUNNY · DARK LEOPARD	BELLA · SILVER METAL, GRADIENT
1 · Front, flat	Edge light to lift black from black	Backlight to show acetate depth	Flag reflections; dark card in the lens
2 · Three-quarter	Rim light on the brow line	Same angle as Blake for a set	Same angle for a set
3 · Profile	Temple line against black	Temple pattern visible	Thin metal line, one highlight
4 · Folded	Temples closed, top-down	Folded on the case	Folded on the case
5 · Inside temple	The interior stamp and Nº engraving, raking light, legible. Same setup for all three styles.
6 · Lens	Black lens, reflection of the single light	Lens color OPEN	The gradient, dark at top to light, shot against a lit wall
7 · In the case	Case open, frame resting inside. Case closed beside it. Triangle profile visible.
8 · Card	Authenticity card with the sample Nº 001/333 only, never a real number.
9 · Worn, B&W	Face turned away or in profile. Head and shoulders. Low light.
10 · Worn, color	Candid, one warm practical source, in the spirit of mood-01. Unisex casting.
11 · Hands	Folding or unfolding the frame. No jewelry, no manicure shots.
12 · Set	All three styles together, front, flat. Same light, same height.

MACRO DETAIL LIST

Material, up close.

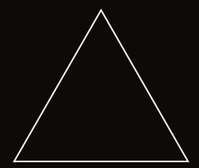

- The hand engraving inside the temple: the stroke, not just the number
- Sunny's acetate layers and pattern at the temple tip, backlit
- Blake's black acetate polish: one specular line
- Bella's metal surface and joints OPEN: CONFIRM METAL TYPE BEFORE NAMING IT
- Hinges and screws
- The lens edge and gradient transition
- Case leather grain, the fold and the magnetic flap
- The card's paper and print
- Sabae workshop hands and tools, if access is given OPEN: ASK SABAEFRAME

FOR THE PHOTOGRAPHER

Technical brief.

- Shoot RAW, color. Black-and-white conversion in post.
- Deliver at 4:5 (feed), 9:16 (stories) and 3:2 (web), cropped from one master
- Leave room: the hairline and labels need the lower third of a 4:5 frame clear
- No visible logos, signs or posters from other brands anywhere in frame
- Clean dust, keep texture. No skin smoothing, no material retouching.
- File names: style_shot_treatment, e.g. blake_05_bw.tif

Three devices. One per layout.

The Prism

The case profile as a hairline triangle. A marker for sections, highlights and the box seal. Never filled, never holds the logo.

OPEN: PROPORTIONS FROM CASE SKETCHES

—/333

The Numeral

Nº —/333 before launch. Real numbers only on the card and the frame. "Nº 001/333" only as a labeled sample.

The Hairline

The lockup rule as the one line in a layout, at 61.8% of the height. Headlines rest on it; labels hang below.

LEOPARD IS NOT A DEVICE. IT IS A MATERIAL ACCENT: AT MOST ABOUT 5% OF A LAYOUT, AND ONLY FROM NORA'S OWN ACETATE ONCE PHOTOGRAPHED.